There is a possibility that we were created by space travelers from another planet called Nibiru according to Sumerian and other ancient tablets. If so, where did they come from? Evolution doesn't fit because humans are the only lifeform on planet Earth that don't fit. If we were left alone naked, most of us would die within a month or so. We're the only species that needs clothes. Something created us. We're so different from all the other animals. You don't evolve gradually to be helpless naked against the elements. If we were to evolve to survive in nature, our bodies would be like bigfoot; hairy, big and strong.

For me, it's very simple. There's atheism, a belief that there is no God and there is a belief that there are supernatural good and evil forces fighting in another dimension all around each of us in the form of angels and demons for our souls. Life on Earth seems so crappy for a lot of us even though we have the wealth to provide the basics of a comfortable standard of living for everyone. The human race is both good and evil as a whole and each of us as an individual struggles between being good or being self-centered, selfish to evil. The mass media has us hooked on materialism and trivial pleasures while many people constantly live in poverty.

Enlightened people have to find a place of peace within themselves where they know their true natures, know God created them to be that way and try to do something good with it. It's hard to go day-by-day being good in a selfish world that thrives on keeping us scared so that we're constantly fighting for money.

That's it. All that New Age mumbo-jumbo about spirits and ascended masters is really about the fight for good or evil in your heart. Some people who have near-death-experiences say they feel an overwhelming sense of pure unconditional love and don't want to come back to human form. This is what we all want. But there are many bad NDEs too. You can watch them on youtube.

I went out looking for all kinds of different experiences and had a real vision-quest type of experience which they say comes from the drug DMT that exists in some substances. The answer is always the same. You have some skills or abilities. Use them for good. There's nothing else complicated about it. Is there real pleasure in being gluttonous or is there a higher sense of self-respect in using your natural energy to do something productive? How much pleasure can you get out of getting drunk, eating junk food, watching silly stuff on TV? I would think it would wear thin after awhile.

The seven books about my look at what I perceive to be supernatural mysteries of life that go beyond mundane regular life to try to touch real divine or extra-terrestrial realities not just phony New Age trash created by charlatans to make money are as follows:

Book 1. Near Death Experiences/ NDEs & Your Eternal Soul

Book 2. Human Origins: Where Do We Come From?

Book 3. Religion-New Age Superbook

Book 4. New Age Forces are either Supernatural Evil or Mild Entertainment

Book 5. The Pineal Gland & DMT: Soulgate to Hidden Dimensions?

Book 6. Satanism-Illuminati & UFOs as Demonic Forces

Book 7. Recreational Substance Guide (Some People Get High to Seek a Higher Dimension)

I think life is really simple after you clear away all the lies and deception. I believe there is a supernatural realm because:

I believe I have felt demons trying to enter me and give me evil thoughts. These were thoughts that I knew came from beyond me while on drugs and other times when I was feeling down.

I have done certain drugs that gave me the DMT-like experience where I have felt God telling me I'm a good man. Use my life to help the human race evolve towards peace and compassion.

I've watched hundreds of near-death experience and angel videos leading me to conclude that there is a supernatural dimension that our spirits enter when we die.
