Science is easy! Observe. Explore. Analyze. Repeat. Children are natural scientists, drawn to wondering, exploration, discovery, and analysis. Science: Not Just for Scientists! gives you simple ideas to open up the world of discovery to young children. Through open-ended explorations, you will discover how to cultivate children's natural curiosity by asking simple questions: How? When? Where? And the most famous of all children's questions: Why? The hands-on activities will empower children to question, experiment, and develop abstract reasoning skills. Children will explore patterns, cause and effect, size and scale, change and growth, energy, and how things work. Easy to follow, step-by-step activities lead children and their caregivers through a new world of discovery. It's simple and fun to investigate: Patterns in Our Neighborhood; Who Can Live Here?; Big, Small, and In Between; Simple Machines; The Water Cycle; Energy Path; and so much more!
